SCIOTO TRAIL NOW CLOSED

Burns Co., Peeved When Fast Drivers Damage Property, Close Highway.

The Scioto Trail has again been closed by A. W. Burns Construction Co., due to the fact that minor repairs and other work is being done on the street. The road was opened Sunday and Monday, but drivers began to damage the improvements by their fast driving. As in one instance, one driver ran into the curbings, and might have caused damage that would have been difficult to repair.

Autoists, especially around this territory, are warned not to enter S Court-st in any direction other than an absolute case of necessity. At the present time any motorist who deliberately drives onto this street may be confronted with a $50 or $100 fine.

Last evening the road was closed, and as a matter of fact was "nailed up tight" on both sides of the street, so as not to let anyone on the street, however a local resident wished to pass over the street and broke the festivities which acted as a warning net to pass and went through, and was followed by many machines. This resident if found out and taken before state highway officials will pay a $100 fine.

PHONE CABLE IN OPERATION

Circleville Given Additional Long Distance Service To Columbus.

Circleville has been given additional long distance telephone service to Columbus as the result of cutting into service of the new underground cable between the two communities.

The cable is the first in Ohio to be placed in fibre conduit, according to E. W. Lutz, manager of the Citizens' Telephone Co.

The system consists of an underground route directly from Columbus to Circleville, with a branch leading eastward from that section of it to Canal Winchester and another branch leading from Canal Winchester to Groveport.

Manager Lutz said that the new underground system, constructed by the Bell System, will take care of existing long distance telephone requirements between Columbus and communities in the south and southwest portions of the state and insures adequate facilities in this territory for 15 or more years in the future.

"It was one of the largest single underground projects in the country, and the cost was approximately $600,000," said Mr. Lutz.

"The cable contains about 30,000 miles of wire in all sections. It has 260 pairs of wires from Columbus to Circleville and 232 pairs in the cable leading from that section over to Canal Winchester and Groveport."

LON CHANEY, MOVIE ACTOR DEAD AT 47

Anemia After Illness of One Week Fatal To "Man of Thousand Faces."

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 26.—Lon Chaney, famous character actor of the motion picture world, died at 12:55 a. m. today in St. Vincent's hospital where he has been confined for the past week suffering from anaemia.

For several hours before he succumbed Chaney had been unable to take nourishment in any form. Shortly before he died, however, the star seemed to be improving and doctors were hopeful that he would recover.

The motion picture star was also suffering from a complicated infection of the bronchial tubes which he previously had had treated in New York.

This, coupled with a severe attack of anaemia made his condition extremely critical Saturday and two blood transfusions were resorted to in an effort to restore his strength.

HAD RESTED

After passing a restful night on Sunday his physician in chief, Dr. John Webster, said he thought his patient was on the road to recovery.

Dr. Webster predicted, however, that the crisis would be reached today, and the film star who had made the world shudder at his grotesque character portrayals failed to meet the crisis this morning.

He was 47 years old.

Chaney's wife, the former Hazel Hastings, was at St. Vincent's hospital with him through the illness and was at the bedside when death came.

Lon Chaney because of the many strange characterizations he gave the motion picture screen, was known as the man with a thousand faces.

He was regarded as the screen's foremost make-up artist, and the roles he enacted were those far out of the reach of the ordinary actor.

His greatest success perhaps was the role of Quasimodo in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." It was a similar characterization that of the cripple in "The Miracle Man" several years ago that gave him his first screen prominence.

Only recently he completed his first talking picture, and his work in that production promised a success as rich as that he enjoyed in the silent films.

Motion pictures he appeared in were "Phantom of the Opera," "The Penalty," "The Road to Mandalay," "Mr. W. Laugh," "Crown Laugh," and "While the City Sleeps."

Chaney was born in Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 1, 1883. He began his stage career as a property man.

He was before the footlights first as a dancer with his brother produced "The Little Tycoon." He deserted the stage for the moving picture in the infant days of the latter industry.

DIRECTORS OF EVENT FAVOR GOING AHEAD

Dates Are October 22, 23, 24, 25; Decision Ends Much Controversy In City.

Pumpkin Show will be held this year on October 22, 23, 24, and 25. The directors of the annual affair, which is looked forward to by throngs from the entire county and from every city and county in central Ohio, definitely decided this fact Monday afternoon at a meeting when after discussion which lasted for a long time, the directors voted in favor of the show.

The decision was reached after much discussion. None of the directors was willing to go ahead and say that the show should be held, without discussing the possible benefits which will be derived by having the show. All were willing to hear why the show should be held or not held, and with good will prevailing, the board voted its approval by voting to go ahead. By the time the meeting had adjourned every member of the board was firmly convinced of the necessity of the annual affair.

The drought which has cut deeply into the pocketbooks of Pickaway-co residents was one of the important factors taken into consideration. The drought and its effects both pro and con were discussed freely by the board before a decision was reached.

For the past few weeks the question has been on everyone's lips, "What do you know about the Pumpkin Show?" "Will we have the Pumpkin Show this year with so little rain, and everyone complaining of hard times?"

Nearly every resident of the county has been interested in the way or another with the show, with several of the farmers promising to be present. It is better than ever, the board has the approval of nearly everyone by its action.

There would have been many disappointed persons in the county this fall if the Pumpkin Show would not be held for this event is looked forward to in Pickaway-co just about as much as Christmas, for everyone, old and young, takes part in the celebration.

The Pickaway-co Four-H club and Four-H calf club are working diligently to make the displays in this new department excellent ones and with everyone going together, pulling together and showing the same spirit, which points toward success, let's make this Pumpkin Show Bigger and Better than ever.

Four buildings in the block, including the Farmers & Merchants Bank were completely destroyed. The buildings in which the city council chambers and several lodge rooms were located also was in the path of the raging blaze.

SELECTS WIN TWO BATTLES

Gracey Confectionery Outfit of Columbus Is Drubbed In Double Header.

Grace Confectioners, Columbus, were the victims of the Circleville Selects recreation team in a double-header at the Utilities park Sunday afternoon by the scores of 5-3 and 22-3.

The first game was interesting with the Capitol City aggregation taking the lead which they held until the eighth inning when the Selects settled down to hard hitting to win.

Eve Merriman connected for the only home run of the day when he hit a long hard drive into left field. As luck would have it, the Selects had no one on base at the time Merriman made his circuit clout.

The Gracey aggregation started their scoring in the second inning when they scored two men on over thrown balls, then again in the third they scored on a wild pitch. These two innings were the only times the confectioners got a chance to score for after this the Selects played air-tight ball.

The fourth frame the Selects started scoring when Hickey came across the rubber for the first run of the day. In the fifth Merriman connected for his homer to bring the Selects within one run of the confectioners.

Neither team scored in the sixth or seventh frames but in the eighth Baucher and Davis came across the rubber to give the local team a one run edge which they lengthened another run in ninth when Hickey came across the rubber on Oliver's double.

Pood Oliver was flighty in the first few innings of the game and allowed quite a few walks but needless to say Puding finally came to earth and settled down to some real pitching.

The second game was a slugfest with the local team scoring at will. They started their scoring orgy in the first inning with one man across the rubber.

The second frame they scored seven runs, one in the third, 10 in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the eighth, making a total of 22 runs.

Gracey were blanketed for five innings and scored in the sixth and seventh for their only runs of the game.

Next Sunday the Selects will go to Columbus to play the same team a double-header at Franklin Park. Vierehome, Davis and Merriman pitched the second game.

INDIAN, BRIX LEAD FIELD

Decathlon Title Fight Being Waged By Haskell Student and Coast Star.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 26.—Two highly divergent types of young Americans, the one a bronzed, impassive Indian from Haskell Institute, and the other a light-haired, smiling giant from Los Angeles, reached the heights of athletic achievement today after holding the spotlight on the third and final day of the annual A.A.U. track and field championships.

Wilson Charles, a full-blooded Oneida Indian succeeded Kenneth Doherty, of the Detroit Cadillac A. C., as decathlon champion, the Michigan star not defending his title here.

Herman Brix, from the coast added new American marks in the 8 and 12 pound shot puts to the still talked of 16-pound record he

Final compilations of points Charles sported 7313 343. Brix 7119 605 and Joe Hall, Florida University, thru with 7073 071.

Charles started the day by finishing in a tie for third place in the 110 meter dash, but he won the running broad jump, was fifth in the 16-pound shot put, tied for third in the high jump, was third in the 400-meter run and fifth in the 110-meter hurdles.

LOUISVILLE 9 AGAIN SLIPS

St. Paul Scores Three In First Frame To Win Contest By Shutout.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 26.—The fast slipping Louisville team dropped its third consecutive contest to St. Paul, runner-up, yesterday and now possesses only a two and one-half game lead.

The Colonels' outburst in the first frame of the contest, but committed a disastrous error in the first inning which paved the way for St. Paul's 3 to 0 triumph.

Minneapolis stamped Indianapolis further into the cellar when it massacred the Indians, 11 to 6 and 14 to 12, to take both ends of a double-header.

Nick Cullop, peer of the home run sluggers in the A. A. surpassed the king of all, Babe Ruth when he banged out homeruns No. 45 and 46, in abetting the Miller's. The mighty Ruth has 44 homers chalked up to his credit this season.

Minneapolis had matters well in hand in the first contest when they tallied eight markers in the first two innings, and coasted through for an easy win. The nightcap was a different story, as the Indians started out with a 5-run lead.

Ernie Smith put the Millers back in the running by hitting for the circuit with the bags bogged in their half of the first and in the second inning his two-base wallop accounted for two more to put Minneapolis in the lead. The Indians rallied in the third and chalked up six more runs, to play see-saw. Minneapolis forged to the front again in the fourth. Indianapolis tied it in the sixth. Then, the Millers salted the game away by tallying two in the seventh which was the margin of its win. Hoffman collected three homers for the Indians during the twin-contest.

Frank Hamilton, Dr. G. L. Hitter and Joe P. Noecker returned to their homes Monday evening after enjoying two weeks vacation at Virginia Beach.

LIGHTWEIGHT BOXERS MEET

Boy From the Coast Takes On Tony Canzoneri For Slap At Singer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Tony Canzoneri will be standing on goose eggs tonight and he might slosh down. Goose eggs do not always stand up under pressure.

Challenger to the glorious lightweight title, he has the temerity to take on a tough young hombre from the Pacific Coast.

Goldie Hess is the young chap from the golden state and he jolly well could toss a Stilson wrench into the carefully thought out plans of young mister Canzoneri.

They meet at the Queensboro Stadium. Canzoneri, 115-pounder, is the official challenger for Singer's 135-pound crown. They are matched to fight at 10, nobody can take Tony's place. As is, he stands right on the top step of the throne room. He is within, perhaps a single haymaker of a title. He could step out and hit Singer right on the plate and draw on the purple robes of supremacy. Again boxing is odd that way.

That's why I say he's tip toeing on goose eggs this night.

Isn't it reasonable to say that Hess stands a chance to ruin Canzoneri's chance with Singer. Hess has whipped good men on the coast. Canzoneri can be whipped. He is only human and therefore, it is a spot for a young man who believes in opportunity.

At last that doggone flyweight title is going to be planted where it belongs.

The garden folks have matched Frankie Genaro and Midget Wolgast. They fight fifteen rounds for the title at Madison Square Garden on October 15. Frankie is the champion with the national boxing association; Wolgast, 112-pounder, in New York State.

On Wednesday evening, Doggy Ward's outfit and the Pettit-Sinclair will play off a tie for second place. The game will be played at Utilities field.

SOLONS DRAW NEARER MACKS

Sad Sam Jones and Joe Cronin Collaborate To Hand A's 3-2 Defeat.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Like a poor little step-sister, who suddenly marries a man with a million or writes a successful novel, the long ignored American League was ready today to draw up a chair right at the head of the table.

Nobody has paid much attention to the American plant this summer for the simple reason everyone has figured the Athletics, despite Connie Mack's protests to the contrary, were certain to cop, but indications that can't be overlooked are the A's may possibly go the way of all flesh in a nice, juicy collapse.

Washington has been called the "dream champion" outfit and accused of playing far over its head, but the sustained stand of the Senators throughout the summer has bashed that theory on the head and it looks right in the cards that Washington can give the world's champions a real fight. They defeated the Athletics yesterday, 3 to 2, and cut the first place lead of the A's to six and one-half games.

Sad Sam Jones grieved his opponents with only six hits and Joe Cronin clinched the triumph with a homer in the fourth with one on and a snappy single in the eighth that scored Sam Rice with the counter that won Jones' win.

Lefty Grove of his ninth straight win and his twenty-second victory of the season.

In the only other game in either league, the improved Detroit Tigers snatched a 7 to 5 game from the Browns. Tom Bridge, rookie pitcher with a big-hearted hand for walks, made his debut with the Bengals and lasted until the ninth when he was relieved by Hoyt who calmed the rallying Browns. Bridges allowed only seven hits but he walked twelve.

These are the dog days in baseball and only three games are scheduled for today. In the National circuit the Reds clash with the Cards, and Pittsburgh plays Chicago and Washington again engages the Athletics in the American League.

THE LOW COST OF FIRE INSURANCE

WHEN you buy fire insurance you pay for indemnity against loss. But each dollar buys so much more than mere indemnity that it easily ranks as one of the most effective you spend. You pay for reimbursement; you receive protection—before and after fire.

Stock Fire Insurance, even when considered as indemnity only, is one of the cheapest of present-day necessities. While the general price trend was upward, the average rate charged for fire insurance was downward. For more than twenty years the average cost in this country has consistently declined.

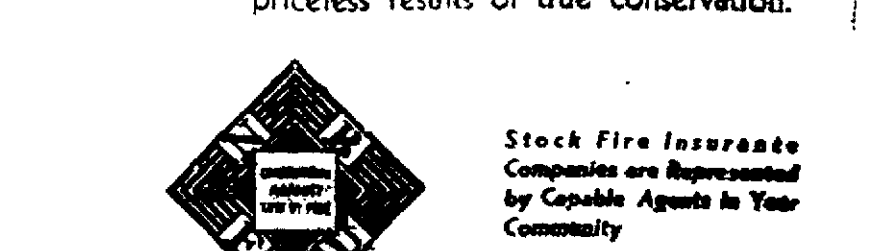

Notwithstanding this reduction in cost, the services rendered by the more than 250 stock companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters have been increasing in number and scope.

For Good Measure:

For good measure, in addition to indemnity, these companies provide engineering and research that make life and property safer, great laboratories in which to test materials and devices, scientific measurement of fire hazards, building construction codes, arson detection and investigation; organized fire prevention—a multiplicity of activities designed to prevent the losses which no amount of insurance can ever repay.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

provides funds for rebuilding and replacement when calamity overtakes the policyholder. But far beyond that in value, to individual and to public, is the constant fight that is being waged to preserve the savings and investments of America's millions. A greater use of the facilities thus provided will add to the priceless results of true conservation.

HOARDING FOOD

Grocery organizations have done an unusual thing lately in asking consumers not to buy more canned goods and other groceries than usual. They like to sell, but they do not want the public to buy more than usual, to hoard, in fear of a famine caused by the drouth that would make an artificial scarcity and raise prices.

The grocers themselves say they are not considering any price-boost. Canned goods may be scarcer this winter, but they will try to hold prices down, and hope the public will cooperate by keeping its head.

There is less danger of profiteering in the food business than there is of people trying to take advantage of their neighbors by hoarding. There is food enough in the country for everybody if buying and selling are allowed to follow their usual course and the market is not disturbed by panicky consumers.

STUDENTS

There have been 14,000 men and women at Columbia University, in New York City, spending the summer in serious courses of duty. The number in other educational institutions must run into hundreds of thousands.

This is an unexpected showing for a nation supposed to be light-minded and given to summer vacations and sport.

There is more interest in education than you'd think, from the ordinary behavior and conversation of people you know. Many a serious intellect lurks behind an appearance of lightness and frivolity. Men and women nowadays tend to conceal their learning if they have it. Which modesty is praiseworthy—but sometimes misleads the young.

UP

The florist friend says things are getting better in his business. People are still buying flowers for weddings and funerals, and collections are picking up.

When the florist says a cheerful word in August it means something.

WORMS

Fishing in most of the states, and also in parts of Canada, has not been so good this year, because of the drouth. The lack of rainfall has dried up streams where there is ordinarily good fishing. But more than that, it has diminished the worm supply by drying up the soil. And in spite of all the new-fangled devices for tempting fool fishes to bite on a bare hook, the chief dependence of fishermen is still on the good, old-fashioned angle-worms.

As the soil dries and hardens, the worms either perish or work their way down beyond the reach of the spade in search of moisture. The fruitless quest of fishermen for worms has been one of the most disheartening effects of the big dry spell. There are traditions of rains which "rained worms" that in recent weeks, has been a fisherman's dream of bliss.

The situation brings up again the question why enterprising young men do not make a business of raising worms. Where water is available, earthworms may be so intensively cultivated as to bring big returns. And they may be shipped considerable distances.

When Fisherman Hoover said that the main thing wrong with this country was that it was too long between bites, he stated only half the truth. There ain't enough bait.

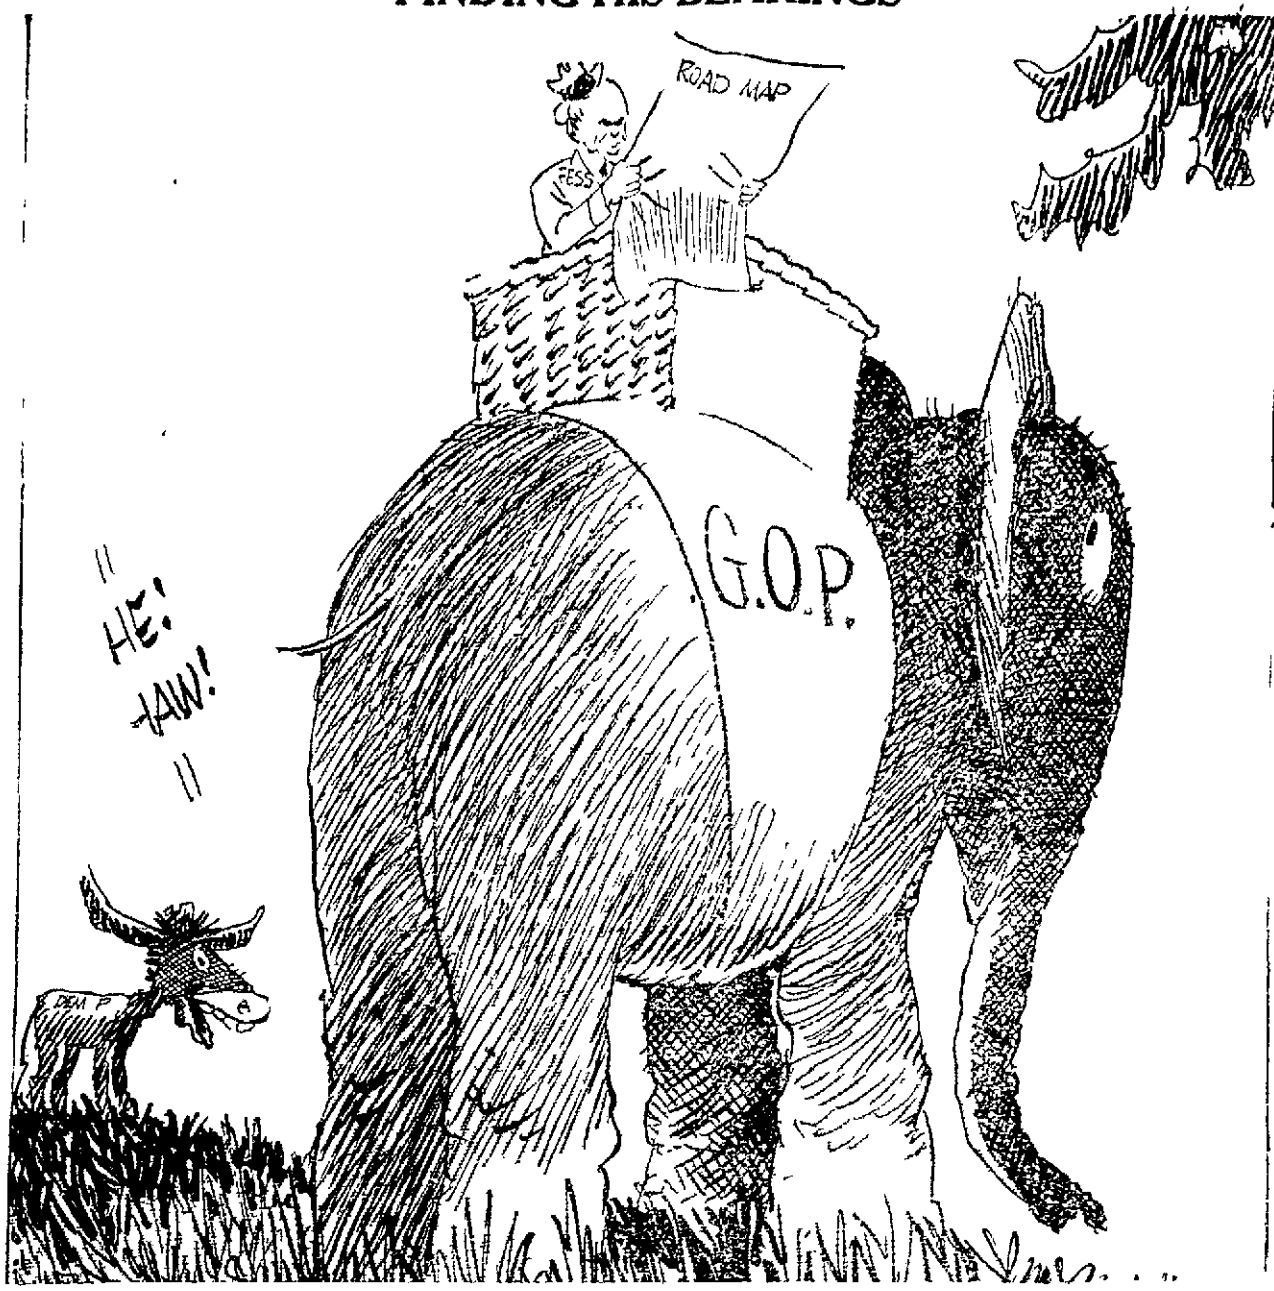

The poultry and egg supply has suffered too, from the drouth. Foraging hens have had to go to the bottom of the garden for worms for the protein part of their diet. Birds are not very robust, have been killed for lack of worms. Agriculture, as well as the fishing business, needs worms. See Charles Darwin, the naturalist, on that theme. Earthworms prepare the soil for cultivation. In short, the need of the hour is more, bigger and fatter worms.

Then again, this drouth may be another covert scheme to make prohibition unpopular.

Chicago has a new railroad terminal for potatoes along with a capacity for 2,450 cars. You boys born in the country and proud of it, how do you like to sprout them?

Law is a funny thing. Two men who were with Byrd in the Antarctic have their naturalization papers held up because they can't show "continuous residence in the United States" when everybody knows they were in Little America.

"The SEA BRIDE"

THE ROMANCE OF AN EVENTFUL WHALING CRUISE

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE

FAITH KILCUP had always looked upon Captain Noll Wing, of the whaler, Sally Sims, as a master and tower of strength, but shortly after their marriage he changed. Dissipation and old age were exacting their toll. The men of his crew no longer feared him. Faith was disillusioned. Dan Tobey, second mate, who loves Faith, vainly tries to discredit Noll before Faith. In a quarrel Noll kicks out the eye of Mauger, a member of the crew. Thereafter, he fears Mauger's vengeance. When the Sally Sims puts into a lonely island, Faith goes ashore. She meets an ex-sailor named Brander, who goes with her to join Noll's crew. Dan takes an instant dislike to him. Faith's brother, Roy, also resents Brander. Dan comes upon Faith listening to Brander's singing and is consumed with jealousy. He intimates that Brander gossiped about Faith. Roy, raging, warns Brander to keep silent. Noll reprimands Brander for assisting Mauger. He strikes at Brander, who dodges the blow. The crew is stunned when Noll, admiring Brander's courage, taps him on the back and says, "Good man!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XVII.

IT is rare to encounter a fighting whale, a creature that deliberately sets itself to destroy the attacking boats. The tragedies of the whale-fisheries are more often mere accidents, slight mishaps, rather of small importance to the whale. A little, little thing, and men die!

That day, the day when Brander faced Noll Wing and won the catch, was bright and fair, with a gently turbulent wind and a lancing sea. It was warm upon the waters; the sea burned down upon them and its glare and its heat were reflected from them. The skin of men's faces was reddened by it.

The men, tugging at the oars in the boats, sweated and strove. The perspiration streamed down their cheeks, trickled along the straining cords of their necks, slid down their broad chests. Their shirts clung to them wetly; they welcomed the flying spray that lashed their row and their faces.

The pod of whales was perhaps five miles from the Sally when the boats were lowered; but the wind was favoring, and its pressure upon the sails helped them on for a space. When half the distance was covered, the oars were discarded as the boats swung around with the wind aloft dead astern, and headed straight for the whales' lay.

Before they reached the backing, sporting creatures, the whales sounded. It was necessary for the men to sit idly and wait for a full half-hour before the first spout showed that the cachalots were lashed from their browsing in the ocean caves below. The boats swung around and headed toward them, sails pulling.

Mr. Ham's boat was in the lead, for that it was the duty of the mate. The oars were heavily bunched. The boats were close together, and the men were all eyes and ears.

The mate marked down a whale, a fat cow that would fill half a barrel. He gave the signal, and the boats were all eyes and ears. The mate marked down a whale, a fat cow that would fill half a barrel. He gave the signal, and the boats were all eyes and ears.

into the whale's blubber and flesh then the stank of the barb grips and holds. An edge that will cut blubber will also cut hemp. The loop of whale-line was dragged firmly back along the three-inch blade, and severed as if a knife had done the trick; and the whale was gone with two irons and thirty fathoms of line.

Mr. Ham and his boat bobbed placidly upon the water. The mate looked, saw what had happened, and spoke harshly to the men, the boat, the sea, and the departing whale. Then he looked about to see what might be done.

It was too late to think of getting fast to another whale. The whale was gone, and the great creatures were fleeing. After them went James Tichel in his boat, the spray chasing up from her bows. Tichel was fast; the whale was running with him.

Mr. Ham looked from Tichel to the other boats. He saw Dan Tobey in distress. A whale had run gently under them, opening the seams of their craft; and they

Theatres

AT THE METROPOLITAN

Margy "Babe" Kane, who appears with Eddie Quilian in Pathe's current feature comedy, "Night Work," does not hoop-boop-a-doo—and that's final!

Although Margy is a great admirer of Helen Kane, the baby talk girl, the fact that everyone she met during the filming of the picture asked her to hoop-boop-a-doo got on her nerves. It was just a situation that arose when two pretty girls, both with the name of Kane, came into the limelight at the same time and naturally got confused.

AT THE GRAND

Frank Fay, inimitable Broadway wit plays the part of Don Carlos, hard-riding, swaggering, whimsical, two-gun lover, in the latest Warner Bros. first 100 percent in technicolor "Under a Texas Moon," which comes to the Grand theatre soon.

This altogether delightful comedy drama of the old Spanish Southwest, includes in its list of famous players—Raquel Torres, Myrna Loy, Armina Noah Beery, Georgia Stone, George Cooper, Fred Kohler, Betty Boyd, Charles Selton, Jack Curtis, Sam Appel, Tully Marshall, Mona Maris, Francisco Maran, Tom Dix, Jerry Barrett, Inez Gomez, Elythe Kramera and Bruce Covington.

AT THE CLIFTONA

"The Marriage Playground," an all-talking moving picture with all the elements of perfect entertainment—pathos, romance, comedy and drama is coming to the Cliftona theatre as the main attraction.

Based on the novel "The Children" by Edith Wharton, this production moves along swiftly stirring the heart of the beholder to continuous emotional response. It concerns the revolt of the younger generation against the divorce-cratered third-thirty behavior of their elders.

Mary Brown, as Judith Wheeler, is featured in the leading female role. Co-starring with her as the young American who befriends the unfortunate Wheeler children is Freddie March.

Hurtler Gordon and Lilvan Tushman are the renegade parents. The roles of the young Wheelers are played by Philippe de Lacy, Bob Lee, Ray Parsley, Little Miss Anna Louise and Donald Smith the latter a nine-month-old baby.

Additional support is furnished by Kay Francis, William Austin, John Lee, Maude Turner Gordon, Joan Standing and David Newell.

Teeth Suffer From Soft Foods

Give Your Jaws and Teeth Something to Do, Says Authority, They Need Exercise

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

CIVILIZED peoples today sin against Nature by eliminating foods containing the precious vitamins, mineral substances and roughage. We damage our bodies by eating soft foods.

There is danger of damage to Americans, a few generations from now, having smaller jaws and weaker teeth, a different physical appearance than they have today.

Unless the present dietary faults are corrected we are to suffer, is the opinion of some of our leading dentists and scientists.

This subject was discussed recently at the annual meeting of the Dental Society of New York State. It was said that 80 per cent of the population today are suffering from faulty development of the teeth and jaws.

Not only in America, but in England and many other countries, is this tendency noticed. Faulty diet is the cause.

It is mighty important what you eat. There are two vital elements—lime and phosphorus. They are required in the proper development of the teeth and jawbones as well as in the growth of the body. A common tendency is to indulge in too much starchy food, leaving out the necessary vegetables and fresh fruits. The last are needed to give the body these two important chemical substances.

Give your jawbones and teeth something to do. Eat the coarsest bread, corn and cheer them well. No use of any structure or organ tends to weaken and degenerate it. Use strengthens it.

One of the extremes of the jaws and teeth just as surely weaken them as the legs are weakened by disuse from illness or injury or laziness. A healthy mouth may lead to a rest cure, as I will be astonished to find after several weeks that his legs will scarcely support him. On bed rest, to walk these muscles become stronger.

So, for the good of every growing child and every adult, liberal supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables, wholesome bread and cereals, milk to pint for the adult and a quart for the child, grapes, juice and, if necessary, cod liver oil should be taken. Eat, too, plenty of the coarser vegetables that give roughage in the digestion.

You add years to your life and enjoy better health by carrying out this programme. It is worth your attention.

DOLLAR BUYING MORE FURNITURE

Prices of Home Furnishings Now Lower Than Before War, Survey Shows.

The American consumer's dollar has returned to the buying strength it enjoyed before the world war in many markets. Particularly is this true of the commodities classed as home furnishings, said dealers in Circleville today, quoting figures recently given out by the government to support the statement, with comparisons of prices dating back to 1915.

Wholesale prices of furniture have been decreasing since 1920, the figures showed, and the public has been paying correspondingly lower prices.

BEST SINCE 1915

Surveys have been conducted all over the country recently by both retail and manufacturers' associations and the results of these investigations have just been received by local dealers.

Furniture Association, and Dr. A. P. Haake, managing director of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, expressed the opinion that the consumer now is receiving the greatest values in furniture since 1915.

QUALITY IMPROVED

High grade lines of furniture have maintained their prices near the level of a year ago but manufacturers have raised the quality of the materials used. For instance one large concern said that davenport covers with tapestries costing $2.75 a yard were being sold at the same price as davenports which formerly were covered with material costing $2.25 a yard; mohair at $2.90 a yard is now used on davenports selling at the same price as those formerly covered by $2.45 materials. Finer stuffing is now being used in certain high grade davenports instead of the less expensive hair or moss, without any increase in price.

Retail furniture stores generally are handling a more medium price line of merchandise than in former years, according to the survey made by the two associations.

YOUR LAST CHANCE

Naturally, good things can't last forever. At least, here's one good thing which can't last, and we mean—you had better hurry.

For when we kick the cat out Saturday night, and lock our doors—the Free Coal Campaign will be a thing of the past until one year from now.

That is—a thing of the past for some folks. For those who have taken the easy step toward solving the heating problem, all the enjoyment is still to be had. Just imagine June warmth in December and all the rest of the icy cold months. Upstairs, downstairs, all over the house. Just imagine a supply of Free Coal to start the Winter off right. Just imagine the big saving in fuel costs—all because the genuine Estate Heatrola has something which no other heater can ever have.

Last but not least, just imagine that all we've been talking about is available right now, for only $2.00 down. That's the Free Coal offer now in effect. Can you beat it? We should say not either, but no stalling please. Come right in and get it over with. For Saturday—and you can take our word for it—is your last chance.

At this writing (Saturday night) there are eight tags hanging on the various models of Estate Heatrolas, indicating that eight more families in this county will enjoy "June warmth" in their homes during the coming winter. By the time this paper reaches you, there will be more, we are quite sure that have joined the ranks of Heatrola users. Stop in to the store and read the names on the tags.

You know these people. You know of their standing in our community. And when folks like these insist on buying nothing less than the Heatrola—you can bet your bottom dollar, there must be something to it.

For the Lady of the House—Do you have a stool in your kitchen? It would save you quite a bit. Why not sit down to pare potatoes and apples, or wash the dishes? Rest while you work. We have just received a shipment of steel stools, finished in Ivory or green, with nicely decorated backs, all well braced. You may have your choice of colors for the small sum of $1.19.

Whether you want linoleum, rugs, occasional tables, chairs, mattresses, or—well, no matter what you want—we've got it at the right price, or we'll be glad to get it for you, and the price will still be right.

Overheard on S. Court street, as reported by Jack Kirwin:

Passerby: "What, excavating this street again?"

Foreman: "Sure, the contractor is a surgeon, and it seems that three steam shovels are missing."

You can lead a fat man to water, but you can't make him sink.

Don't forget, we're giving tickets to the Grand Theatre with each purchase. Should we neglect to give them to you, it's an oversight on our part and we'll be happy to have you remind us. It's asking for them.

Among the articles for the home that arrived at our store last week was a beautiful Early American bed-room suite in Cherry-Mahogany. It is composed of a four-poster bed of "finely" design, a large chest of drawers, a beautiful dressing table, with swinging mirror and a bench that looks like a piece of furniture that would look right in a bedroom of any home, lady or young man. (We'd suggest that a dresser be used instead of a vanity if the suite is placed in a boy's room.) And the pretty part of the whole thing is that it is priced at only $114.95.

HOMER HANDY'S HINT

Pieces of gum camphor placed near books on the shelves will protect them from mice.

Williams "How did Harper happen to lose control of his car at the railroad crossing?"

Hunt: "He's the kind of a man who always drops everything when the whistle blows."

The Community Dollar Day was a huge success with us last Thursday. We regret very much that every visitor did not get a lamp for $1.00, but our supply of nearly 70 lamps was exhausted within a half hour after the store was opened. "Bugs" McCrady, one of our efficient enforcers of the law, was present but the crowd did not need his services as they were very orderly. Not a lamp in the whole lot that was not a bargain, and the crowd seemed to know it, too. The extra inducement for that day of a double allowance of FREE COAL took well also. Four more families of this county went home that evening, resting assured of "June warmth" in their homes for this coming winter. While we cannot offer a double allowance again this summer, we are still offering FREE COAL to purchasers of the Estate Heatrola. If their order is placed with us before the close of business on Saturday night, Aug. 30th. Better hurry, folks, for the time is getting short. If you can't come to us, just call us and we'll call at your home.

The flag-pole . . . are off their poles, the . . . are climbing down to get ready for school, the "Greater St. Louis" plane had to come down. The only endurance contests that we can recall at the present time are the folks sitting up, waiting for Amos 'n' Andy to come on the air and the Pyrofax Gas Cook over at Ralph White's home in New Holland. It's beginning to look as though this tank . . . get those folks all summer. Here is the end of the EIGHTEENTH WEEK, and so far as we know, it's still furnishing for that Estate Gas Range in the White home. The cost per meal is now down to .027 while the cost per week is only .777 or $3.00 per month. Wonder how much longer it will last?
